

Recruitment Process

Fair Recruitment Process:

Our commitment to Equal Opportunities means that we wish to ensure that every applicant is treated fairly. The information you provide in your application form is the only information we will use in deciding whether or not you will be shortlisted for an interview and it will be used as a basis for the interview itself. Your application is therefore very important and the following advice is designed to help you complete it as effectively as possible.

Your Application

You should receive the following:- (NB: Please read the job description carefully)

1. Job Description

This outlines the main duties of the post and includes some information about BRYR and the context of the post, and the competencies required for the post.

2. Application Form – How to fill it in

- Complete your application form electronically.
- After reading the job description think carefully about your application and consider to what extent you have the skills and experience necessary for the post.
- Please note that we cannot accept CVs for shortlisting. All candidates are required to complete BRYR's application form in full so that we receive the same type of information from all applicants and so that you directly address the selection criteria.
- Please complete all sections of the form.
- If you are applying for more than one position, please complete an application form for each position.
- The Employment section gives you the opportunity to tell us about the work you are doing now or have done in the past. Always remember to specify your responsibilities rather than those of your section or department.

- The Education/Training section asks for the relevant training and qualifications, which you have undertaken or achieved. Please mention qualifications and/or training (if any), which are relevant to the post for which you have applied.
- The Skills, Competencies and Attributes section is a very important part of the application. Please use it to tell us how you meet each of the selection criteria listed on the job description. Do remember that experience can be gained from current or previous employment, community or voluntary work, experience gained in the home and through leisure interests.
- Make note of the closing date for applications and return your form before that date. Remember to keep a copy of the form for yourself.
Please return the completed form to: christine.lodge@bryr.ie.

Please note:

- Application forms received after the closing date and time will not be accepted.
- Application forms that are incomplete or not completed correctly will not be accepted.
- Please ensure that the declaration is signed by you prior to submission of the application

B Our Recruitment Process

Shortlisting

After the closing date, all application forms are read to see how each person's skills and experience relate to the post being applied for, i.e. how they match the person specification. Applicants who meet these requirements most closely are invited for an interview.

Interviews

The interview panel is normally made up of a minimum of 2 people who will ask a number of pre-determined questions. Everyone who is interviewed will be asked the same basic questions. There may also be supplementary questions based on the information you have given us in your application form. The questions are intended to allow you to expand on your application form and to show the panel how well you meet the requirements of the job. For some jobs there may also be a presentation in addition to the formal interview.

You will have the opportunity at the interview to ask questions about the job, conditions of service or anything else you need to know about BRYR. The panel has to keep a record of their assessment of each candidate so that the reasons for their decisions are clear, consistent and justifiable.

Complaints

If you feel that you have been treated unfairly, please write to us and we will investigate. We try very hard to ensure that every stage in our recruitment process is fair and properly thought out. We have a duty to ensure that you are treated fairly and helpfully even if you are not appointed. If you wish to discuss why you have been unsuccessful, please let us know and an appropriate person will provide you with any feedback that you may require.

References

BRYR reserves the right to seek both written and verbal references from current and previous employers, educational institutions or any other organization(s) with which the candidate has been associated. BRYR also reserves the right to determine the merit, appropriateness and relevance of such references and referees. Please note: Candidates are requested not to submit written references with their application form.

Garda Clearance

In accordance with legislation, BRYR will seek, as part of the selection process, Garda Clearance in respect of candidates. You will receive specific instructions on this process at the appropriate time.

Offer of Employment and Appointment

It should be noted that no offer of employment is made, or should be interpreted as having been made, until the BRYR formally offers a contract of employment. A person will not be appointed to a position until a signed contract is returned to the HR department.
